JUNIOR'S

BOOT WAX

A BOOT WAX WITH A STORY

In a small midwest town, 1976, Clarence Gereau, nicknamed Junior, started a company that made wax for cheese. Being a hard worker from the dairy state, his knowledge of wax production led him to start making other custom formulas for things he personally needed.

One of his best formulas was a boot wax that he would make just for himself, his friends, and his family. Since more and more people have been asking for it, we've decided to share it with anyone who values taking care of their leathers with the quality of Junior's boot wax recipe.
